Burton opens at the Arch on the night of the Fourth, with a new national piece entitled, "Our Fiag Nailed to the Mast." The Walnut closes on the Fourth, and opens in a short time thereafter with an entire new company, with one or two exceptions. The old company have been, I understand, engaged by Burton, who has leaved the Chesunt street Theatre, and will open it some time in September. Under the management of Burton, I am persuaded, it will again take the lead of all the other houses.

There was very little done at the Stock Boards to-day. No State securities changed hands, though 74 was freely offered. Holders have faith, and remain irm at 75. Their faith will not, I hope, be disappointed. Wilmington shares touched bottom this afternoon, at 164. After boards, 164 were offered for 500 shares, but whether this was maintained to the last, I have no means of ascertaining.

The weather is warm, but the atmosphere is damp and within the past year several ships have left here for Chine, intending to make this on their return the port of discharge. Among the vessels whose names occur to me at present, are the ships Tonquin, Heber, and John Quincy Adams; barques Sappho and Douglass. These vessels, besides others which will seen be fitted out for the China trade, will bring taa enough to supply our yearly wants without having recourse to the New York markets.

Foreign Markets.

LaGuayna, June 17.—As I predicted in my former letters, the scarcity of Flour of which I informed you per Venezuela, has been followed by an excessive supply, no less than 2200 barrels having been received in a single day. The whole amount which has arrived since my last advices exceeds 3500 barrels.

The last Coffee crop has nearly all been brought down from Caracas, and as the new grop will probably not begin to come in before the close of the year, the quantity that may be shipped during the ensuing five or six months will be comparatively small; it is even now very scarce, although it has not, as yet, undergone any additional advance in price since the date of my last letter—Hides are also scarce, being in great demand for Europe; within the last few days they have advanced considerably in price; and as to Indigo, there is none in the market.

American Provisions of all kinds are abundant, and India and China Trade—Ship Building—New Society—Lave and Lobsters—Naval News—The Rev. Mr. Fairchild—Emigration—Theatricals, 4°c.

The China trade of Boston, you are aware, has for many years been merely nominal, but recently many of our folks have complained bitterly of this neglect on the part of our ship owners and merchants, who have had the control of the trade, and the result is, that within the past year several ships have loft here for China intendiate to make this on their returns the subject has been so respectfully and so urgently pressed upon them by our Charge d'Affaires at Caracas. The following is a comparative table of the Exports of Laguayra for the four previous years, and of the present year, up to the 10th of June, inclusive:—

Coffee. Cocaa Mus. Su'r. Indigo. Hides.

besides others which will soon be fitted out for the China trade will bring tae anough to supply our yearly wants without having recourse to the New York markets.

The India trade has not, as you are aware, been of great importance for several years, and now that the China trade is open, I predict that the latter trade will entirely supersede the India trade. Already we have mearly as many vessels that sail for China as for India. The liberality of the terms of the late treaty with China has given an impetus to several of our leading and spirited merohants and ship owners, among whom I mention R. B. Forbes, Eaq., have taken hold of this new branch of trade with a spirit that promises success. The China market is superior to that of India for our manufactured goods, and the advantages in commercial speculation greater. I know not at the present time (without making reference) of more than four or five ships at the Engreage of the first commendation for its shipping accommodation. The China was the intercourse with China care few ports in Ly, fall away.
